Detroit, Mich., July 18 .- The Nation als lost the last two games of the Detroit series played here to-day by Orth Pitches Great Ball in Second 5 to 2 and 11 to 1. In both contests the Detroit pitchers were really the leading actors in the drama, Mullin good, thorough revenge on the champions breaking a long losing streak of more than a month by twirling shut-out ball by taking both games in a double header. in the first, while in the second Killian. Cantillon sent out Gehring, his newly acquired Des Moines twirler, to take the firing line against Mullin in the opening contest of the double-header. Mr. Gehring was given a speedy initiation into high life. Downs, the first man up, tripled, and Coughlin singled. The Quillen, 3b. Westerner then braced and went safely to the third, in which, after two were McFarland, c 1 1 4 2 McFarland, c 1 1 4 2 Hart, c 3 0 0 2 out, Crawford and Cobb singled, each stole second, and Rossman peeled off a Totals 2 927 17 5 double to left.

Two for Nationals,

Washington did not threaten Mullin till the fifth, in which the Cantillonites bunched both their runs. One was out when Shipke beat out a single to deep third, stole, and took third on Schmidt's bad throw. Warner's fly brought him home. Gehring walked, and Ganley tore home. Gehring's performance did not stamp him as either good or bad. He had good speed, a fair curve, and relied largely on a fast, high ball to fool the batsmen. He didn't greatly mystify the Tigers, but acted as if he had been pitching big league ball all his life, so far as any apparent lack of composure was concerned. He fielded his position well and had a nice stand at the bat.

The Second Game.

It now looks more than probable that Case Patten will be used hereafter only on extreme occasions against Detroit. Gehring, Hughes, and Falkenberg were here injected into the game as emergency stickers for Shipke, Heydon, and Patten, but none of them had a clean-up wallop, and it didn't greatly matter anyhow.

Long Tom did manage to roll out a grounder on which Anderson came home, while Hickman was being forced, but
